

A skilled trades resource for your company!

StaffAid is a company dedicated to providing supplemental skilled trades to your business. Our ability to accurately match client needs with candidate strengths guarantees your satisfaction. Using your specifications, well trained and skilled workers will be available for your supplemental needs. Our rapid response to your request guarantees that qualified professionals are in place within specified time frames.

Exacting Services

The services we provide are customized to meet your requirements. You choose the pay parameters, trade demarcation, license requirements, work hours, invoicing structure, equipment and other criteria that best meet your company's needs. As well, our unique collective bargaining agreement enables the placement of unionized or non-unionized employees and there is no restriction on any particular employee. We provide the skilled professionals to help you get the job done!

Excellent Candidates

We treat our candidates with dignity and respect, thus building an excellent rapport. StaffAid understands that our candidates' efforts are the key to continued success and the building block to forming a long-term partnership. All our candidates must pass a rigorous selection process. We ensure that their licensing, references, certification, experience, safety knowledge and skill levels are valid. StaffAid is proud of its high standards, providing our clients with nothing less than the best candidates possible. As well, all our employees are paid each and every week, creating a real positive feeling.

Safety First

Our commitment to the safety of our workers and their assigned workplace is paramount. Initial safety training and verification, computerized ongoing safety re-training, testing and orientation and an outstanding safety and WSIB record stand as testimony to this important value for our enterprise. Staffaid utilizes the most modern computer assisted learning systems to ensure all our candidates are current with all required training.

State-of-the-Art Systems

Our administration systems, order fulfillment and payroll processes are top notch. Using the very best process techniques and software, we are able to do our job for you with speed, accuracy and very effective customer response capability. Our web-based systems and newly developed software provide enormous benefit in refining our search capability. Our commitment to this modern approach will allow us to perpetually add value to our service and to your business.

On-Line Continuous Training

StaffAid has recently implemented a state-of-the-art on-line training and certification program and capacity. With thirty-six specific training modules, StaffAid provides an excellent foundation for the continuous training and upgrading of our employees, your candidates. This training includes effective use of computer tools and an on-line test for every module. Type and frequency of training is an area of extensive dialogue with our clients.

Open Pricing

With every inquiry or request, StaffAid provides a detailed "Billing Sheet" that identifies all pay items, including hourly rate, vacation pay, etc., as well as indicating statutory and WSIB submission rates. This document will clearly show administration and profit amounts, giving your business a complete cost breakdown. This method allows firms to make an informed and effective decision regarding hire and utilization.
